Summary

Mohamed AlAbiya, aka ENDUP. I hold a Bachelors degree in Computer Science NU in 2025 "Full Stack Developer" because I have launched some online stores, modified Android and iPhone applications, and possess knowledge of websites. My expertise in server management, data storage, and data presentation is extensive. I have a solid algorithmic approach to providing the best possible solutions for any project with the lowest costs. I am capable of establishing an Online commerce company on my own that operates efficiently, thanks to my skills in server side, client side, backend, and frontend development.
